ED affidavit opposes closing Mallya PMLA prosecution

The Enforcement Directorate told the Bombay High Court on 12 September 2026 that ₹14,131.60 crore in asset recoveries by lenders cannot extinguish Vijay Mallya's PMLA case. The agency argued restitution under section 8(8) is legally distinct from criminal culpability.

THE READ

The stance draws a bright line between civil debt recovery and criminal money laundering accountability. It ensures high-value asset returns do not automatically trigger criminal immunities.

THE THROUGH-LINE

India legal and financial regulators are strictly enforcing procedural boundaries across corporate restructuring and market innovations. Tribunals and oversight bodies are drawing clear lines between summary insolvency forums and complex contractual disputes while advancing regulated distributed ledger pilots. At the same time criminal and statutory enforcement agencies continue to separate asset recovery from underlying legal liabilities.
