ENFORCEMENT · SPECIAL PMLA COURT

Promoter Remanded in GMADA Land Deal Money Laundering Probe

On 17 October 2026, the Special PMLA Court in Mohali granted the Enforcement Directorate seven days of custody for promoter Jagmohan Garg of Remigate Projects following his arrest at Delhi airport. The money laundering investigation stems from alleged GMADA land entitlement waivers and bank fraud involving a ₹57-crore land parcel.

THE READ

The arrest demonstrates heightened judicial backing for custodial interrogation in state-level land allotment frauds involving public authority waivers. For real estate developers, regulatory concessions granted by local authorities offer no safe harbor against PMLA scrutiny if tied to underlying loan diversions.

SUPREME COURT · COMMERCIAL BENCH

No Enforceable Contract Prior to Execution of Conveyance Deed

On 16 October 2026, the Supreme Court ruled in Satinder Pal Singh v. Bedi Hospital that an Agreement to Sell does not create an enforceable contract prior to conveyance execution. The bench upheld the Chandigarh Administration's cancellation of a ₹12.58-crore e-auction bid for a nursing home plot due to a price disparity with an adjacent ₹18.25-crore plot.

THE READ

Public auction winners cannot claim vested contractual rights until formal conveyance deeds are executed, leaving provisional allotment orders vulnerable to cancellation. State agencies retain broad authority to revoke bids if clear benchmark disparities indicate public revenue loss.

M&A · CORPORATE STRUCTURING

IL Jin Takes Full Control of Power-One via All-Stock Buyout

On 18 October 2026, Amber Enterprises subsidiary IL Jin Electronics executed an agreement to acquire the remaining 40% stake in Power-One Micro Systems. The all-stock transaction values the remaining equity at $18.5 million, converting Power-One into a wholly owned subsidiary.

THE READ

Acquirers are increasingly using equity swaps to consolidate existing joint venture stakes without deploying cash reserves. Completing a full buyout reinforces parent control over critical manufacturing supply chains in the expanding electronics sector.

VENTURE CAPITAL · AGTECH

Linga Agri Completes First Funding Tranche at High Valuation

On 17 October 2026, Prime Industries subsidiary Linga Agri Trading and Machinery closed the first tranche of its funding round. The private capital raise established a pre-money valuation of $44.8 million for the agricultural equipment manufacturer.

THE READ

Industrial subsidiaries leveraging established parent infrastructure continue to command premium valuations in selective capital markets. Institutional backing for agtech machinery points to sustained investor interest in physical supply chain modernization.

REGULATORY · CAPITAL MARKETS

Exchanges Mandate Quarterly Settlement of Trading Account Funds

On 17 October 2026, Indian stock exchanges and brokers executed the mandatory quarterly settlement of client funds pursuant to SEBI regulations. The market-wide operation returned all unutilized trading balances directly to primary client bank accounts.

THE READ

Strict adherence to periodic cash return rules eliminates broker pooling risks and protects retail capital across trading platforms. Broking entities must maintain strong liquidity buffers to seamlessly handle regular systemic cash outflows.

THE THROUGH-LINE

Across courts, regulatory bodies, and corporate boardrooms, public accountability remains the defining standard for market participants. From judicial rulings curbing premature contractual claims against state authorities to strict enforcement of client fund segregation, public oversight continues to override private arrangements. Dealmakers and promoters alike must navigate an environment where transparency and statutory compliance take precedence over procedural shortcuts.
